

OLANA'S VIEWSHED

Frederic Church carefully designed Olana's 250-acres with an artist's eye to his property's 360-degree "borrowed" views of neighboring hills, valleys, the Hudson River and distant mountain ranges. The views beyond Olana – its viewshed – were an essential part of Church's original 19th century composition, and in the 21st century, the Olana Viewshed remains a vital part of Olana's integrity as a complete work of art.

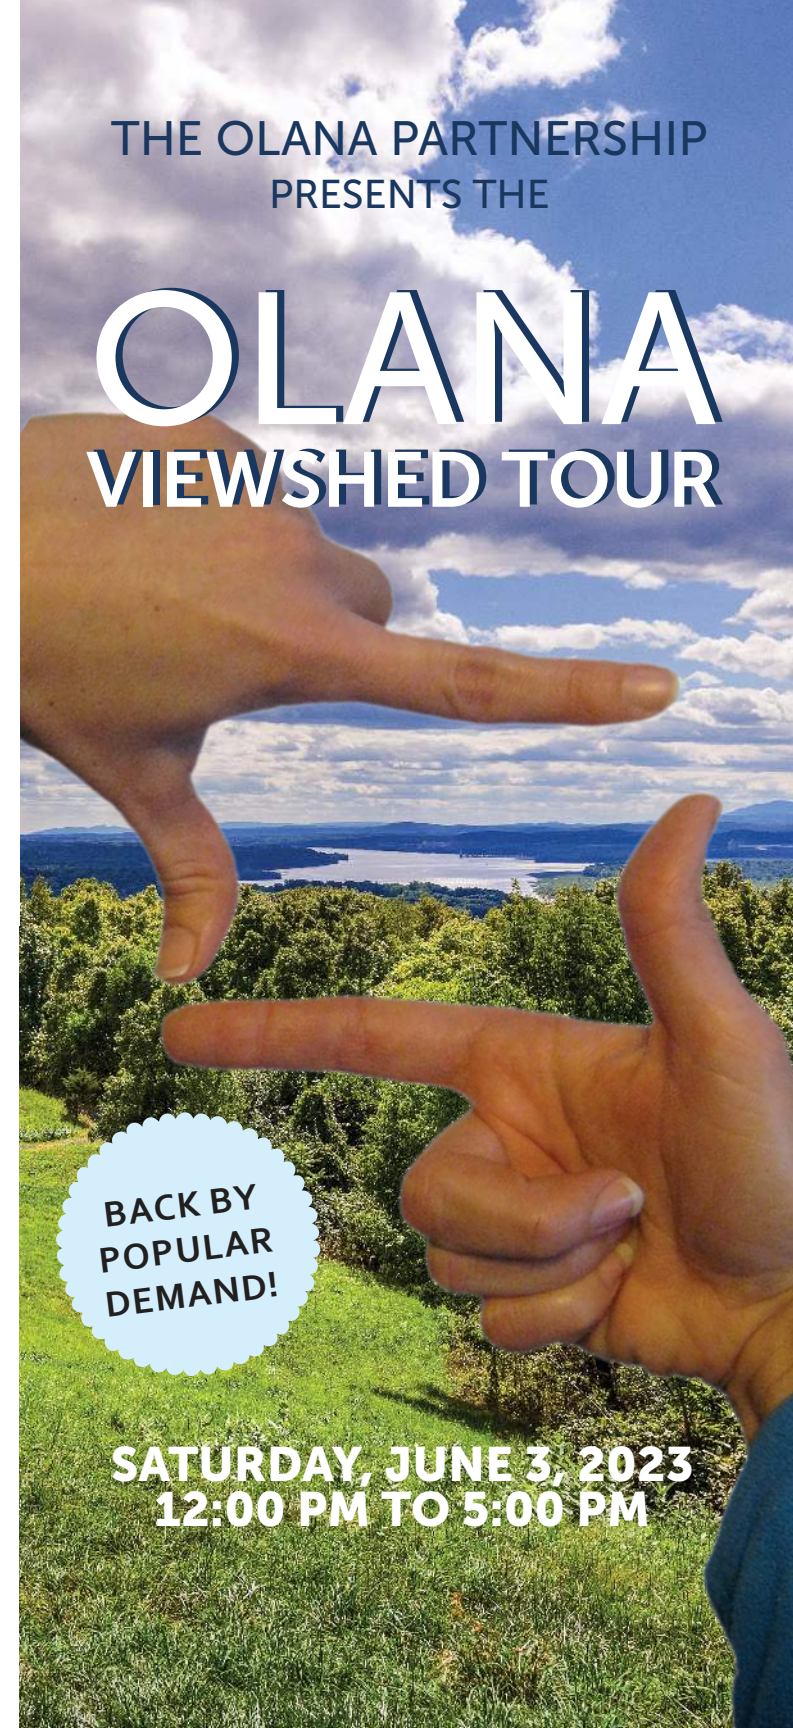

As a New York State Historic Site and National Historic Landmark, Olana's integral viewshed is astonishingly intact today. Over many decades, a collaborative effort among preservation organizations, governmental divisions and private landowners has resulted in the protection of important views from Olana. To date, nearly 3,000 acres have been strategically protected within Olana's historic viewshed.

In recent years, The Olana Partnership has included viewshed history in its public tours, and visitors from around the world now learn about Frederic Church's 250-acre artist-designed landscape in relation to Olana's ongoing preservation story. Today, Olana serves as a leader in the United States for this level of landscape interpretation, and thanks to the work of many, future generations will be able to fully experience Frederic Church's Olana.

EXPERIENCE THE OLANA VIEWSHED FROM A NEW PERSPECTIVE

This year, experience an expanded Olana Viewshed Tour, with a combination of past favorites and new properties.

The Olana Viewshed Tour offers an opportunity to experience a collection of rarely seen private properties, all within a few miles of Frederic Church's Olana. Like Olana, their views are integral to their design. The selected properties feature scenic, protected, and working landscapes across varied topography, as well as historic and contemporary architecture set against dramatic backdrops of the Catskill Mountains, the Hudson River, and Olana.

Space is limited, and past Viewshed Tours have sold out.
